|---------------------|--------------------|
| Date of Enforcement | September 30, 2011 |
| Last Modified | July 29, 2020 |

All personal information handled at Seoul National University is collected, handled, and managed by relevant acts, including the Personal Information Protection Act or by the agreement from the subject of information.

Seoul National University has established the following policy in accordance with the Personal Information Protection Act to protect the personal information and the rights of the users of its website and to quickly respond to any issues the users may experience in regards to their personal information. Any amendments made to this policy will be publicly announced on the website.

This privacy policy applies to all websites that use Single Sign-On (SSO) information for personal authentication unless any separate announcements are made.

Article 1 (Purpose of Personal Information Management)

Seoul National University manages personal information for the following purposes. The managed personal information will not be used for purposes other than the purposes stated below. In the case there is a change in the purpose of using the personal information, the University will be asking for consent from the users prior to the change.

A. Provision of Services

- Personal Information will be managed to provide various services for introducing the University and making announcements, providing educational content, verifying personal identity, issuing certificates (certificate of education), and for providing information on admissions.

B. Membership Registration and Management

- Personal Information will be managed for identity verification and personal authentication of users for access to the membership services provided by the University, including admission services, academic affairs, student affairs, library services, access to teaching and learning materials, research, and medical care. The personal information will further be used to prevent any unauthorized members or users from accessing the service, to check the users' ages, keep records for dispute arbitrations, address any customer complaints, and to make announcements.

Article 2 (Collected Information, Methods of Collection, Legal Basis for Retention, Period of Retention)

The personal information of the users will be destroyed immediately after the purpose of its collection and use have been achieved. Provided that, if it is required to retain the information by relevant school regulations and laws, the personal information will be retained as designated by relevant laws and regulations.

The collected personal information, methods of collection, legal basis for the retention of the information and the period of retention are as follows.

Article 3 (Provision of Personal Information to Third Party)

Seoul National University manages personal information within the scope stipulated in Article 1 (Purpose of Personal Information Management) and will not exceed the initial scope or provide any personal information to a third party without the prior consent from the user except for any of the following cases.

- Where the user provides prior consent to the provision and disclosure of information to the third party
- Where statutes and regulations demand the provision
- Where the personal information is needed to fulfill a service contract, and it is conspicuously difficult to receive regular consent due to economic and technological issues
- Where the information is managed so that it cannot be used to identify individuals

☞ List of Third-Party Recipients of the Personal Information (Click to be directed to [Appendix 1])

In the case that an institution affiliated with Seoul National University provides personal information to a third-party that has not been stipulated in the abovementioned list, the institution will disclose its privacy policy on its website.

Article 4 (Entrustment of Personal Information Management)

- 1) When signing an entrustment contract, Seoul National University stipulates the matters concerning prohibiting a third person from managing personal information for any purposes other than for the performance of the entrusted affairs, matters concerning technical and administrative protection measures, limiting any re-entrustments of the personal information, management and supervision of the entrusted party, and matters concerning liabilities to compensate for damage in the contract with regard to Article 26 of the Personal Information Protection Act. Seoul National University is regularly checking and supervising whether the entrusted party is safely managing personal information.

2) For the smooth management of personal information, Seoul National University is entrusting the management of personal information as follows. The University will disclose any changes to the tasks of the entrustment or the entrusted party through this Privacy Policy.

☞ Entrustment of Personal Information Management (Click to be directed to [Appendix 2])

3) Entrustment of Personal Information Management by other institutions affiliated with Seoul National University is disclosed in each of their privacy policy posted on their website.

Article 5 (Rights and Duties of Subject of Information and Methods of Exercising Rights)

Users can exercise the following rights as the subject of personal information.

- Request an Inspection of Personal Information

In accordance with Article 35 (Inspection of Personal Information) of the Personal Information Protection Act, users can request to inspect the personal information retained by the main website of Seoul National University. The users' request to inspect personal information may be restricted with respect to Clause 5, Article 35.

In the case the user requests to inspect his/her personal information, Seoul National University will ensure that the user could inspect the relevant personal information within ten days after the request has been made. In such cases, if there exist justifiable grounds making it impractical to inspect such information within the specified period, the University may notify the subject of information of the grounds therefor within ten days after the request has been made and postpone an inspection, and permit the inspection without delay within ten days after the grounds cease to exist.

Seoul National University may limit or reject a request from the subject of information after notifying the reason to the subject of information in any of the following cases. In such cases, the subject of information may inspect other information aside the information that cannot be inspected. The university will also inform the subject of information on the reasons and methods to raise objections within ten days of receiving the request for inspection.

- Where an inspection is prohibited or restricted by Acts
- Where it is apprehended that any third person's life and body may be harmed, or any third person's property and other interests may be unduly infringed on
- Where a public institution causes any inconvenience while carrying out any of the following affairs:
 - a. Affairs concerning the imposition, collection, or refund of taxes
 - b. Affairs concerning grade evaluation or the selection of newly enrolled students at schools of each level under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and the Higher Education Act, lifelong education centers under the Lifelong Education Act, and other higher education institutions established under other Acts
 - c. Affairs concerning tests of academic ability, functions and employment, and qualification evaluation

d. Affairs concerning an assessment or decision in progress in connection with the calculation, etc. of compensation

e. Affairs concerning an audit and an investigation in progress under other Acts

- Request to Correct or Delete Personal Information

Personal information files retained by Seoul National University are subject to correction or deletion by request pursuant to Article 35 (Correction or Deletion of Personal Information) of the Personal Information Protection Act. Provided, that if other statutes stipulate the particular personal information to be collected, the subject of information cannot request the deletion thereof.

Aside from the cases in which other statutes stipulate relevant procedures on the correction and deletion of the particular personal information requested by the subject of information, and provided that there are no justifiable grounds, Seoul National University will investigate the personal information in question within ten days after the request has been made and take necessary measures, such as correction or deletion, etc. based on the request of the subject of information, and notify the subject of information of the result.

- Request to Suspend the Management of Personal Information

Personal information files retained by Seoul National University are subject to suspension of management pursuant to Article 37 (Suspension, etc. from Managing Personal Information) of the Personal Information Protection Act.

Seoul National University will suspend the management of specific personal information entirely or partially at the request of a subject of information within ten days of receiving the request, provided that there were no justifiable grounds, and will take necessary measures on the personal information in question within ten days of receiving the request to suspend its management, provided that the University may reject a request from a subject of information to suspend management in any of the following cases. In such cases, the university will inform the subject of information of the reasons within ten days of receiving the request.

- Where an inspection is prohibited or restricted by Acts
- Where it is apprehended that any third person's life and body may be harmed, or any third person's property and other interests may be unduly infringed on
- Where a public institution is unable to conduct its affairs stipulated by or under other acts unless it manages personal information
- Where it is impractical to perform a contract, such as a failure to provide a subject of information with stipulated services unless the personal information is managed, and the subject of information fails to express his/her intention to terminate the contract clearly

- Methods and Procedures of Exercising Rights

A subject of information may have his/her representative (a legal representative of the subject of information or a person who has been entrusted by the subject of information) to request the inspection, correction or deletion, or suspension of management of their personal information. In such cases, the representative may submit a power of attorney of the subject of information to the University (Refer to Appendix 11 of the Enforcement Decree of the Personal Information Protection Act for the Power of Attorney)

A subject of information may exercise his/her rights after completing the "Request Form for Personal Information (Inspection, Correction or Deletion, or Suspension of Management)" and submitting the form by mail, or electronic mail, or FAX to the managing team for affairs such as the inspection of personal information (managing team for receiving the requests for inspecting personal information pursuant to this Privacy Policy). Requests for inspection of personal information may also be made through the Private Information Protection Support Portal Website (www.privacy.go.kr).

A subject of information can raise an objection if dissatisfied with the request for inspecting, correcting, suspending the managing of, and deleting the personal information by contacting the managing team for receiving the requests for inspecting personal information pursuant to this Privacy Policy.

A legal guardian of a child under the age of 14 years may request the university for inspection, correction, deletion, and suspension of management of the child's personal information.

Article 6 (Destruction of Personal Information)

Seoul National University will destroy personal information without delay when its management purposes are achieved. The procedures, duration, and methods of destruction are as follows.

- 1. Destruction Procedures

- The information input by the user is moved to a separate database after its management purposes are achieved (in case of paper documents, moved to a separate document), then is stored for a certain period pursuant to relevant Acts or is destroyed without delay. The personal information moved to another database during this process will not be used for any other purposes unless stipulated by law.

- 2. Duration to Destruction

- The personal information of the user that has surpassed its retention period will be destroyed within five days after the end of its retention period, and in the case where the personal information has become unnecessary as its management purposes have been achieved, the relevant service has been canceled, or the project has been terminated, the personal information in question is destroyed within five days after its management is acknowledged to be unnecessary.

- 3. Methods of Destruction

- Information in electronic form will be destroyed by using technical methods which would prevent the files from being recovered. Information printed in paper form will be shredded by using a shredder or be incinerated.

Article 7 (Measures for Securing the Safety of Personal Information)

Seoul National University has established the following technological, managerial, and physical measures to secure the safety of personal information pursuant to Article 29 of the Personal Information Protection Act.

- 1. Minimizing the Number of Personal Information Protection Managers and Providing Training Opportunities

- The University is appointing personal information protection managers and limiting the tasks only to select employees to manage personal information.

- 2. Running Regular Self-Inspections

- The University is holding regular self-inspections (annually) to secure the safety of personal information.

- 3. Establishing and Implementing Internal Management Plans

- The University is establishing and implementing internal management plans for the secure management of personal information.

- 4. Encrypting Personal Information

- The University is saving and managing the passwords and resident registration numbers of its users after encryption so that only the user could have knowledge of the information in question. The University also employs separate security functions for essential data, such as encrypting the files or transmitted data or by locking the files.

- 5. Technological Measures to Prevent Hacking, etc.

- Seoul National University has installed security programs and has regularly renewed and inspected them to prevent any leakage or damage of personal information through hacking or computer viruses. The University has also installed its system in a restricted area and is using technological and physical measures to inspect and block any external access.

- 6. Access Restriction to Personal Information

- The University is limiting access to personal information by taking necessary measures through providing, changing, and rescinding access to the personal information management database system. The University also uses a firewall to restrict any external unauthorized access.

- 7. Access Restriction to Unauthorized Personnel

- The University has a separate physical facility for storing personal information and has established and implemented a protocol restricting access to the facility.

Article 8 (Personal Information Protection Managers)

Seoul National University is designating personal information managers and persons in charge by field to protect the personal information of its users and respond to relevant complaints, and to secure the legitimacy and appropriateness of the personal information for the protection of the rights and interests of the citizens and the appropriate performance of public affairs.
